

Below is a list of some of the organizations in Calgary that will take the stuff you no longer need. Keep in mind that some things have fulfilled their use and it is time to garbage them. Charities, Non-Profits and disadvantaged people do not have the resources to repair and/or clean things that you couldn't be bothered to do yourself – no matter how good you think the item still can be. So when you give, make sure it's in the true spirit of giving and not just dumping your unwanted stuff on someone else just because you're reluctant to throw it out.

Please ensure that you check the organization's website for current needs as their requirements may change depending on the season and time of year.
